Call Compliance, Inc. and TPG TeleManagement, Inc. Team to Provide Compliance Audit Service for Teleservices Industry

GLEN COVE, NY (April 18, 2005) - Call Compliance, Inc., patent holder of TeleBlock® and the leader in failsafe Do Not Call compliance services, and TPG TeleManagement, Inc., the leading provider of quality and performance management services and software for the teleservices industry, announced today the creation of a new audit service aimed at helping companies that use teleservices solve the compliance puzzle.

The new company, Compliance Testing & Solutions, LLC ("CTS"), was formed with the special concerns of the teleservices professional in mind. "This is about leveraging the collective expertise of two industry leaders in order to help companies that use the teleservices channel," said John Glantz, President of TPG Telemanagement. "Separately, our companies are the best in our respective areas, but together, we have been able to develop the program, and deploy the resources, that will enable our clients to take compliance to the next level," he continued.

CTS, which has already been engaged by its first client, has developed a unique compliance audit program covering all the essential elements of today's complex calling operations, including Do Not Call, predictive dialer usage, billing requirements, and internal compliance procedures. The CTS program encompasses on-site audits, detailed questionnaires, procedure and script analysis, as well as review and analysis of calling data.

"The CTS service will deploy detailed audit plans and data analysis to review our clients' inbound and outbound calling activity, technologies and procedures," said Joseph Sanscrainte, General Counsel for CTS. "The key for compliance in 2005 and beyond is third-party verification, and that's exactly what CTS provides," continued Mr. Sanscrainte.
